JUDGE BURNET GIVES STRONG GRAIN SORGHUMS: THEIR CULTURE AND USES.

By Fletcher Davis, in The Semi-Weekly Farm News of Friday, April 15, 1921.

Hon. R. H. Burney, Judge of the 38th Judicial District has long been noted for his clear, forceful and comprehensive charges to his grand juries. No law-breaker can hope to sneak to cover unnoticed when his deeds merit the investigation of the duly authorized tribunal whose duty it is to make investigation—the legally constituted grand jury.

In his charge to the grand jury of the present term of court here Monday, concerning the powers and duties of the said body, Judge Burney spoke in a characteristic manner of a form of lawlessness as yet but little known in his district but becoming extremely obnoxious in some sections of our state—the activities of the Ku Klux Klan.

Judge Burney said in part, speaking of the Ku Klux Klan:

"It is a secret organization with a secret membership, wholly irresponsible to the very government whose laws it claims to uphold. It is an organization which by secret members and methods undertakes to rectify what it may conceive to be errors of conduct of individual citizens and to secretly interpret the laws of the state and nation as applied to the said acts of the citizens without regard to courts or juries, and to mete out its own conception of justice in the way of punishment and penalties.

"It is wholly outside of and irresponsible to duly and legally constituted authority under our government and only has the power and the authority of the mob, superseding and supplanting all our legal agencies. At its own sweet will it organizes a secret, irresponsible court with a night-riding executioner of its decrees. It is subversive of our American system which guarantees to every man the right to be informed of the charge against him, with time and opportunity to prepare for trial, to have process for his witnesses, to have the benefit of counsel, to have trial before a fair and legally selected and sworn jury, to be confronted by his accusers and witnesses against him in a court of competent jurisdiction, presided over by a lawfully elected judge, with authority to hear before condemnation, before being punished or deprived of his liberty or property.

"In thus seeking to deprive the citizen of all due process of law and trampling upon the constitutional guarantees that are intended to safeguard the rights of the humblest citizen, this self-constituted tribunal is wantonly trampling under foot the greatest boon of humanity—equal protection of the law."

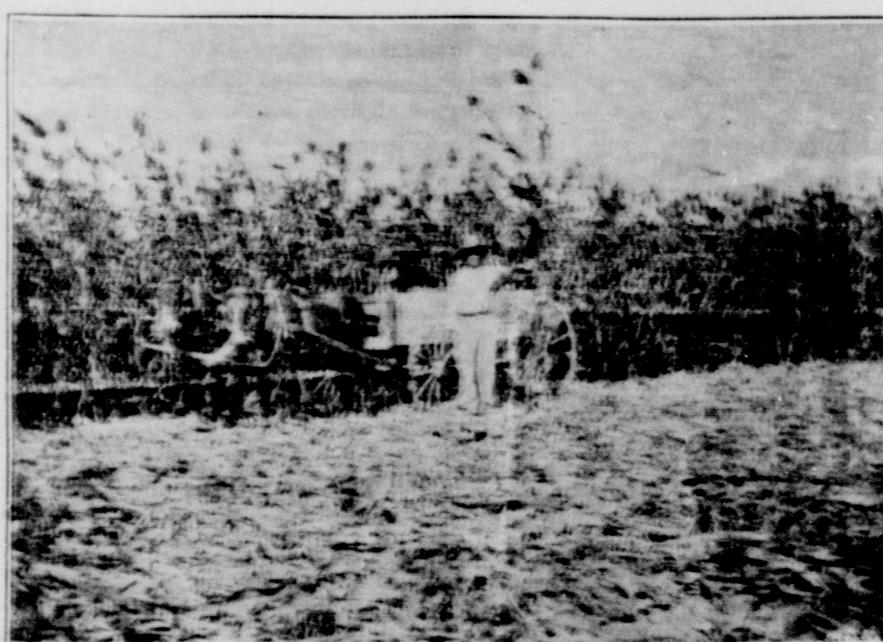

Judge Burney is also of the opinion that no public official can be true to his official oath as such and be a member of an unlawful organization that holds its membership in secret and violates the laws of the land in carrying out its purposes.

FOR SALE—Rat dogs, Male, $5.00, Female, $3.00. T. L. Miller, Phone 67. 382t.

to make a second crop, the feeding value of an acre of the grain sorghums is about twice that of an acre of corn."

"The different varieties require about the same cultural treatment except where a change is made necessary by the differences in seasonal or soil conditions. Perfect seed bed preparation is a prerequisite in all cases. Plowing should be deep, whether done in the fall or spring, though fall plowing, because of the greater winter precipitation, is known to be preferable. The ground should be well harrowed or disked before planting. Listing is preferable to plowing on all soils subject to high winds, as it not only prevents the shifting of the soil, but also protects the young plants from moving sands or soil particles.

"The seed should be tested for germinating power before planting time, and if well selected and well stored, will show a germinating power of 99 to 100 per cent. A simple method of testing the seed is as follows: Secure two dinner plates, a little clean sand and two sheets of blotting paper or cheese cloth large enough to cover one of the plates. Place the sand in one of the plates, level it off and then saturate it until the water nearly stands on the surface; then place the blotting paper or cheese cloth and spread on it the seed—ten, fifty or a hundred of each head. The larger the number the more accurate the test. Over the seeds spread another sheet of blotting paper or cheese cloth and cover all with the other plate. Allow this tester to stand in a room ranging in temperature from 50 to 70 degrees for four or five days. The percentage

In a course of feeding experiments of germination is then taken and only held recently at the State experiment station at Spur, it was found that the seeds of such heads showing a high power of germination are used to corn in the feeding of cattle and lambs, and they may, in fact, be even somewhat more valuable. Steers fed for 120 days on cottonseed meal and alfalfa and sorghum hay in equal amounts, in conjunction with milo, feterita, and corn, on a pound-for-pound basis, showed daily gains as follows: On ground ear corn, 1.96 pounds per steer at a cost of 7.83c per pound; on milo heads, 1.947 pounds at a cost of 7.5c per pound, and on feterita heads, 2.02 pounds at a cost of 7.20c per pound.

The daily average gain of the lambs, over a ninety-day feeding period, was three-tenths of a pound per day. The largest gain at the smallest cost was made by cotton seed and milo, rather than cottonseed meal. The cost per pound gain with this ration was 3.3c, while the most expensive gain was made in the feeding of shelled corn at a cost of 12.8c per pound of gain. The feeding value of these grains is established beyond any question, and they may be regarded henceforth as one of our staple crops.

The more important grain sorghums are included in two groups of varieties, the kafir group and the milo-durra group. Dwarf and early-maturing varieties in both groups are the best for the higher and drier districts. The milos and feteritas ripen in from ninety to 110 days, which adapts them to short seasons, high elevations and low rainfall. The kafirs are not so early and require more moisture. They do best when the rainfall is about twenty-five inches and the elevation ranges up to about 2,000 or 2,500 feet. Where the rainfall is abundant it is safer to depend upon corn, as the sorghum midge is liable to do much damage to the grain under humid conditions.

"Any soil that will grow corn will grow sorghums, kafir, milo and feterita, and soils on which corn will languish under ordinary conditions will produce each abundantly under the same conditions," to quote from Bulletin No. 42, of the Texas State Department of Agriculture. "The further advantage is that, on any class of soil, the sorghums will stand up against drought, while corn will wither in the row. It has been demonstrated, too, by experiments carried out in Texas through a series of years, that by reason of their pearance above the ground and the drought-resisting qualities, and ability to make a second crop, the feeding value of an acre of the grain sorghums is about twice that of an acre of corn."

"The different varieties require about the same cultural treatment except where a change is made necessary by the differences in seasonal or soil conditions. Perfect seed bed preparation is a prerequisite in all cases. Plowing should be deep, whether done in the fall or spring, though fall plowing, because of the greater winter precipitation, is known to be preferable. ## HOW TO RAISE THE PRICE OF COTTON AND MAKE FARMING PAY

SOME COTTON FACTS, GIVING ACREAGE, PRODUCTION, CONSUMPTION, EXPORTS, PRICE, AND VALUE FOR TWENTY YEARS IN TEXAS AND THE NATION.

A large cotton crop means a small money and waste more energy and price and less money for farmers.

All successful farmers grow their living at home, keep out of debt, and make cotton a surplus crop.

Diversified farming encourages self-reliance, promotes independence and insures prosperity.

A crop of eight or ten million bales of cotton this year will bring 20 to 25 cents per pound.

A crop of twelve of fifteen million bales will bring 10 cents per pound or less. Which will you have?

Cotton is not the only money crop. Fruits and vegetables, live stock, poultry, eggs and dairy products bring money.

Make the farm self-supporting and make the world pay a profitable price for the coming cotton crop.

This will make farming prosperous and put all business on a sound basis.

Geo. B. Terrell, Commissioner of Agriculture, Austin, Texas, March 15, 1922.

The table printed above shows the acreage, production and price December 1st each year, and the total value of the cotton crop in the United States for the last twenty years, based on United States government report. An inspection of this table shows that in a majority of those years the smaller crops brought a higher price, and a greater amount of money than the larger crop brought.

In the year 1907 the crop of 11,070,000 bales brought $130,000 more than the 13,242,000 bale crop brought in 1908.

In the year 1910 the crop of 11,609,000 bales brought $132,519,000 more than the 15,693,000 bale crop of 1911 brought.

In the year 1915 the crop of 11,192,000 bales brought $82,424,000 more than the 16,135,000 bale crop of 1914 brought.

In the year 1917 the crop of 10,943,000 bales brought $295,263,000 more than the 11,450,000 bale crop of 1916 brought.

In the year 1919 the crop of 11,439,000 bales brought $1,091,198,000 more than the 13,439,000 bale crop of 1920 brought.

Of course this great fall of prices in 1920 was caused largely by financial conditions in Europe and the deflation policy of the Federal Reserve Board, which caused a great slump in the price of all agricultural products, threw labor out of employment, reduced the purchasing power of the Nation 40 per cent and paralyzed business generally.

The general proposition holds good, however, that the smaller cotton crop will bring a higher price and more money to the farmer than the larger crop.

Why should the farmers spend more

From the United States Government Reports Farm Price December 1st. Figures vary in different Government Reports.

The boll weevil and other insect pests played havoc with the cotton crop last year and they may do the same thing again this year. It would be foolish to plant a large cotton crop for the weevil to destroy. We had better plant a small crop on well selected land, plant good seed as early as the season will permit and cultivate well and by this means, we can make as much cotton as we can sell for a profitable price and use the other lands for food and feed crops, and for pasture. This plan will give the farmer more to eat, more pleasure, with less work and worry and more money to spend.

Texas had 8,803,000 acres in cotton last year and produced 2,200,000 bales and we should produce that amount of cotton on 6,000,000 acres this year under proper cultivation and with average seasons. By all means we should not plant more than 8,000,000 acres this year. Texas should produce a maximum crop of not more than 2,500,000 bales, and the South should

TO THE FELLOW WHO'LL TAKE MY PLACE.

"Here is a toast that I want to drink
To a fellow I'll never know—
To the fellow who's going to take my place.

When it's time for me to go,
I've wondered what kind of a chap
he'll be,
And I've wished I could take his hand,
Just to whisper, 'I wish you well, old man.'

In a way that he'd understand.
I'd like to give him the cheering word
That I've longed at times to hear;
I'd like to give him the warm handclasp.

When never a friend seemed near,
I've learned my knowledge by sheer hard work,
And I wish I could pass it on To the fellow who'll come to take my place.

Some day when I am gone.
Will he see all the sad mistakes I've made,

And note all the battles lost?
Will he ever guess the tears they caused,

Or the heartaches which they cost?
Will he gaze through the failures and fruitless toil

To the underlying plan,
And catch a glimpse of the real intent,
And the heart of the vanquished
man?

I dare to hope he may pause some day,
As he toils as I have wrought,
And gain some strength for his weary task

From the battles I have fought.
But I've only the task itself to leave,
With the cares for him to face,
And never a cheering word to speak
To the fellow who'll take my place.

Then here's to your good health, old chap,

I drink as a bridegroom to his bride;

I leave an unfinished task for you,
But God knows how I've tried.

I've dreamed my dreams as all men
do,

But never a one came true,
And my prayer today is that all my dreams

May be realized in you.

And we'll meet some day in the great unknown—

Far out in the realms of space;
You'll know my clasp when I take your hand

And gaze in your tired face.

Then all failures will be success
In the light of the new-found dawn—

So today I'm drinking your health,
old chap,

Who'll take my place when I'm gone.

paring for the best crops in its history. Great is Texas.

Old Homespun says don't imagine that because you know yourself to be right the other fellow don't know as much as you do. You may be on opposite sides of the shield.

There are hero souls that live unknown and dying go down to oblivion unwept and unsung. But having never known the world's acclaim who shall say that the inner consciousness of duty done is not sweeter recompense to them than could have been the plaudits of an approving throng?

In answer to an inquiry if he is a member of the Ku Klux Klan or endorses their methods, Hon. Earl B.
Mayfield, Railroad Commissioner and candidate for the U. S. Senate, side-steps the issue by replying that he announced for the United Senate last July for the expressed purpose of undertaking to preserve the life of our state railroad commission so that it could give the people of Texas relief from the excessive freight rates and passenger fares placed upon the commerce of the country by the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington. We were all aware that Earl had only one idea in entering the race and that he had been zealously side-stepping all other Federal encroachments upon the rights of the states. It was, therefore, unnecessary for him to go out of his way to reiterate it at this time. What the public wants to know is whether if he gets to Washington he will owe first allegiance to the constitution and the flag of his country or to the edicts and the night-shirt of an invisible empire. Adherence to the one precludes membership in the latter and vice versa. There is no use in begging the question or trying to muddy the waters by accusing the politicians of a dark and crafty scheme. Have the Ku Klux not paraded Congress Avenue almost to within a stone's throw of the capitol dome? Has not the sheriff of Travis county, whose duty it was to stop this unlawful assemblage, admitted his affiliation with it? And have there not been floggings and murder in its name in the city of Earl's official abode? And does he expect us to believe that he has not heard of these things?

The Texas Pecan Growers Association will meet at Brownwood May 23 and 24. The sessions of the convention will be devoted to perfecting the details of the marketing plans of the Association. It is the purpose of the Association to organize as many as possible of the growers of Texas pecans for co-operative marketing of their products through the Texas Pecan Growers Exchange. It is confidently believed by the promoters of the Exchange that the larger the percentage of the total crop the Exchange is able to control the more stable will be the prices and the lower the cost of marketing. If the sale of a large crop of nuts during the harvest season threatens to break the market it is planned, through the Exchange, to hold the surplus off the market until the price adjusts itself to a stable status. To make this possible sufficient advances on the nuts must be secured at reasonable rates of interest to supply the needs of the growers for funds until the nuts can be sold at satisfactory prices. These are matters the details of which will have the attention of the convention at Brownwood.

According to E. M. Johnston, Agricultural Statistician, the present supply of hired farm labor, at current rate of wages, as compared to that of a normal supply is 100 per cent. The present demand for hired labor, at the current rate of wages as compared to normal needs is 80 per cent. These figures tend to show that the supply approximates the pre-war supply of such labor while the demand lags far behind. The present tendency is to hire only what farm labor it is absolutely imperative to hire or to limit farm operations entirely to what can be done with the available labor of the farmer and his family. As some have expressed it, the farmer is loath to burden himself further and pay for farm labor with borrowed money considering the future prospect which he faces under present conditions. These figures indicate that the ratio of supply to demand is 1.25 to 1, or, in other words, a 25 per cent surplus supply.

Judging from some of the remarks of Hon. Cullen Thomas it is all right in his opinion for the Federal government to over-ride the rights of the states provided that in doing so something is accomplished that he thinks should be done. So thought every man who has sponsored or condoned an onslaught on the rights of the states in the past; so think the proponents of the anti-lynching bill, the measure to Federalize education and every other pending or prospective measure that over-rides the constitutional guarantees of the state. Two wrongs never made a right. It is either right that state sovereignty be respected in all things not delegated by the states to the Federal government or else it is not right that we presume to have any rights the Federal government is bound to respect.

According to the April 1st crop report for Texas, issued from the Houston office of the Bureau of Markets and Crop Estimates, the number of breeding sows on the farms of Texas as compared with a year ago is 101 per cent. This increase is chiefly in the panhandle and south sections of the state. The central belt shows little change while east and south-

A SAFE TEST

For those who are in need of a remedy for kidney troubles and backache, it is a good plan to try Doan's Kidney Pills. They are strongly recommended by Hondo people.

Mrs. X. Wantz, Hondo, says: "My kidneys were disordered for some time. A dull, bearing down pain appeared in my back which greatly increased until I had to give up. I couldn't stoop or straighten without severe pain. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised at Martin's Drug Store. From the start Doan's did me good and I gladly recommend them to others." (Statement given May 29, 1915.)

On May 3, 1919, Mrs. Wantz said:
"I think just as much of Doan's Kidney Pills today as when I gave my former statement. The cure Doan's worked then has proven permanent."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Wantz had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Wild and Woolly.

Betty had spent the morning at the zoo and had been impressed with the sight of the wild animals she saw there. That afternoon she dashed into the house in great excitement.

"Oh, mother," she exclaimed, come quick. Out in the back yard I've found a wild worm!"—Wayside

Big Meeting in Progress At the Baptist Church.

Services Every Morning at 10:15 and Evening at 8:00.

1
Those lips so sweet to kiss are closed forever now. O, so hard to speak the words. We must forever part! Till we see thy heavenly face.

2
Beyond the smiling and the weeping, beyond the cares and joys and tears, beyond the doubts and hopes and fears, our loved mother rests in slumber deep; In silent and eternal sleep.

3
Mother dear, our hearts are broken and our lives are sad and lonely. Death has closed thy eyes forever, no words thy lips again can utter to cheer our broken and bleeding hearts.

4
Dearest mother, we are coming some day to dwell with thee, where no sorrow may ever enter; for well we know we'll be together, some bright and glorious, endless day.

5
Lonely the house and sad the home since our dear one has gone. But oh, a brighter home than ours, in heaven is now her own.

6
Dearest mother, we miss thee in our home; but the angels called thee, mother, called thee to their sunny home. And we know that you are waiting for the dear ones here to come.

7
God needed one more angel, mother; and so he bent with loving smile and clasped your darling hands. Oh, we long to hear the singing in that happy land of song.

8
We miss thy kind and willing hand and heart; our dear home is dark without thee. We miss our beloved mother every hour since the angels called thee up above.

9
Oh, dearest mother, we love you so. You were all we had, our dear mother. But though you went away so soon, God called you, dear mother; He wants you up in heaven.

10
Oh, mother dear, we loved you so; our hearts ache with grief and pain; But angels called mother away from all care and pain, to that land of purest day.

11
Brightest eyes are closed forever; gone are the smiles that were so sweet, and lonely are our hearts today, for the one we loved so dearly has forever passed away.

12
Dearest mother, we miss you, oh, so sadly. Your gentle voice now is hushed. No sweet lips now to kiss; yet again we hope to meet thee when the day of life is fled.

PUBLIC HEALTH ASSOCIATION
REPRESENTATIVE HERE.

The Health Exhibit car of the Texas Public Health Association was in Hondo April 18th.

The car is equipped with health exhibits in Spanish and English, literature on various health subjects, and a motion picture machine. The car has a special generator so that motion pictures may be shown anywhere. This is a very important part, as the public generally remembers a picture longer than a lecture. Five thousand feet of film is carried at all times.

Health talks are given in English and Spanish. Disease is no respecter of race or color so all must be taught the essentials of disease prevention.

The Health Exhibit Car has visited all the towns between Austin and Hondo. From Hondo it goes to Uvalde, Del Rio, Eagle Pass and Lower Rio Grande.

The car was accompanied by Mr. L. E. Bracy, Publicity Secretary of the Association, and a Spanish interpreter.

FOULBROOD REGULATIONS FOR TEXAS EFFECTIVE MARCH 1, 1922.

Superseding Regulations of April,
1919, Published in Control
Circular D.

Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, A. & M. College of Texas.
B. Youngblood, Director
College Station, Texas, February 15, 1922.

The following regulations are issued by the State Entomologist in accordance with the General Laws of Texas, Thirty-third Legislature, Chapter 51, Section 3, commonly known as the "Foulbrood Law."

All regulations previously issued by this office are hereby declared null and void.

Regulation 1.—It is hereby ordered that on and after March 1, 1922, no honey bees in the State of Texas shall be kept only in movable frame hives permitting of ready examination.

The keeping of bees in box hives, gums, logs, barrels, or other domiciles not equipped with movable frames permitting ready examination of all combs, is unlawful.

Bees kept in any form of hive except one containing movable frames permitting ready examination are subject to treatment or destruction by the State Entomologist, his assistants or inspectors, at the owner's expense as provided by Section 16, Chapter 51, General Laws of Texas.

Regulation 2.—It is hereby ordered
that on and after March 1, 1922,
no honey bees, used honey combs,
used bee hives, used or second hand apiary fixtures or appliances shall be moved or shipped from one county to another unless they are accompanied by a health certificate or special permit given by the State Entomologist, his assistants, or inspectors.

Regulation 3.—It is hereby ordered that on and after March 1, 1922, all apiaries or bee yards wherein American Foulbrood is known to exist, are hereby declared to be under quarantine. The removal of any and all bees, queen bees, colonies, nuclei, combs and apiary appliances or fixtures is prohibited, except under such cases as the State Entomologist, his assistants, or inspectors may permit or approve. Such quarantine shall exist until such time as the State Entomologist, his assistants, or inspectors determine and declare such apiary to be apparently free from American Foulbrood.

Regulation 4.—It is hereby ordered that on and after March 1, 1922, no colony or colonies of bees affected with American Foulbrood shall be treated except by permission of or upon the recommendation of the State Entomologist, his assistants, or inspectors.

Given under my hand and seal at College Station, Texas, this first day of February, 1922.
(Signed) M. C. Tanquary,
State Entomologist.

INFORMATION

Parties wishing to ship or move bees or apiary appliances from one country to another should apply to State Entomologist, College Station,
Texas, for a certificate. This application should be made as far as possible in advance of the proposed date of shipping or moving.

APIARY INSPECTORS

MRS. HEDWIG REINHART DEAD.

Mrs. Hedwig Reinhart (nee Brotz) widow of the late John Reinhart, died at D'Hanis on Good Friday morning, April 14, 1922, at the ripe old age of 83 years, 7 months and 5 days. Her remains were laid to rest in the D'Hanis Woodmen Cemetery Saturday morning, April 15, Rev. A. Falkenberg, Lutheran minister of Hondo, performing the last sad rites. The deceased was born in September, 1838, in Saxony, Germany. She came with her parents to America in 1849, and settled at New Braunfels, Texas. In 1854, she was married to Mr. John Reinhart, and the couple made their home at Cibolo, Texas, afterwards moving to their ranch home on the Seco creek above D'Hanis. Here they reared a family of fourteen children, twelve of whom survive their mother. The children surviving are two sons and ten daughters, namely, Jacob Reinhart of Sabin and Paul Reinhart of D'Hanis, and daughters as follows: Anna, Dora, Laura, Agnes, Hedwig, Marie, Ida, Emma, Lina and Bertha, all of whom are married, but with whose married names we have not been furnished. Besides a large number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren she is also survived by two brothers and one sister.

Mrs. Reinhart was a good mother, sowing the seeds of love in the hearts of all with whom she came in contact. A large circle of friends as well as relatives mourn her passing.

The funeral services were attended by a large concourse of friends, and the touching services were conducted by her former pastor, Rev. A. Falkenberg, who preached a feeling sermon from the text: Psalm 31:5—"Into Thine hand I commit my spirit: thou hast redeemed me, O Lord God of truth."

In the passing of Mrs. Reinhart another of Medina county's pioneers has joined the vast majority now on the other side, pioneers whose hardships carved from a wilderness the now prosperous abode of a happy people—people who will never realize the debt of gratitude we owe those sturdy pioneer fathers and mothers who have gone before.

ST. PAUL'S EVANGELICAL LU- THERAN CHURCH.

Rev. G. E. Grueter, Pastor.
Sunday School, 9 a. m., Divine Services, 10:30 a. m.

Since the congregation has expressed its willingness to establish a Sunday school, we can do nothing else but express our great pleasure because of this fact. All members having children are kindly urged to bring or send them to the church next Sunday and every Sunday thereafter, for the formation of classes and the arrangement of their respective work.

Beginning with the first Sunday in May our Divine Services will be held alternately in the German and English language. The first and third Sundays in German and the second and fourth Sundays in English. This is also a forward step in the right direction.

In a meeting held immediately after the close of the service last Sunday, Mr. C. J. Bless was elected as a delegate who will represent St. Paul's congregation at our Synodical meeting to be held at Fredericksburg, Texas, May 2, 1922.

FREE BARBECUE.

Thursday, April 27, 1922, at Yancey Oil and Gas Co. Well on J. P. Nixon ranch near Yancey, 15 miles south of Hondo.

Mr. Fritz Fuchs is on the ground getting everything in readiness to spud in the well on that date. In conversation with Mr. Fuchs he stated that the prospects for a producing well were unusually good and he thinks that the territory around Yancey will prove to be a very extensive field. Mr. Fuchs will be remembered as the discoverer of the Thrall oil field. He is an extensive operator in Mexia and Somerset fields also, and he stated that he believed Medina county will soon have one of the largest oil fields in this part of the state.

Mr. Fuchs, who is manager of the Yancey Oil and Gas Company, and Mr. Gustafson, the secretary and treasurer, are in Hondo now, conferring with the other directors, who are Fritz Faeseler and L. J. Schmidt.

Mr. Faeseler and Mr. Schmidt were instrumental in getting the acreage blocked for the well, also in getting Mr. Fuchs to manage the drilling of the well, and to these two men all credit is due for the development now in progress.

MRS. A. H. PIKE.

Death wounds to cure; we fall; we rise; we reign!

Spring from our fetters, fasten in the skies;

Where blooming Eden withers in our sight;

Death gives us more than was in Eden lost.

This King of Terrors is the Prince of Peace.

—Young.

The people of Hondo were grieved and shocked Sunday morning when the news rapidly spread over the town that Mrs. Pike had fallen on eternal sleep in a hospital in San Antonio near midnight, Saturday night. She had but recently undergone a minor surgical operation but all reports from the hospital had been so reassuring that it was hard for our people to realize that the lady they had all learned to so highly esteem would never again greet them in the days of yore.

Annie Crump was a native of Tewkesbury, England, where she was married to Mr. A. H. Pike. Like many another young couple starting out in life, Mr. and Mrs. Pike left their native land and sought a home in the new world, and landed in Texas some thirty-four years ago. After making their homes in various parts of Texas they came to Hondo some nine years ago and took charge of the Armstrong Hotel and had made their home here continuously since.

Deprived by death of her husband some six months ago, she and her daughter Miss Christine, courageously took up the business left by the husband and father and successfully conducted it up to the time of her passing.

Her body was brought home on last Sunday's 1:46 train, and at 10 o'clock Monday morning was laid to rest beside that of her late husband, Rev. McIntosh, an Episcopal minister of Uvalde, the church of which deceased had been a member practically all her life, officiating.

Perhaps the greatest mark of respect ever accorded the passing of a lady in Hondo was shown the deceased—

all places of business being closed during the funeral hour. The greatest profusion of flowers ever seen at an occasion of this kind in our "Silent City of the Dead" hid the mound that contained all that was mortal of this estimable lady.

Two children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Pike, both daughters, Mrs. Art Cline of Welsh, Louisiana, and Miss Christine Pike of Hondo, and doubly bereaved in the past six months, they have the immeasurable sympathy of all our people.

IN CARS AND CARRIER AT THE GOLDEN GATE.

E. Peter stood guard at the Golden Gate,
With a solemn mien and an air serene,
When up to the top of the golden stair
Patrons and Carrier, ascending there Applied for admission; they came and stood Before St. Peter, so great and good,
In hope the City of Peace to win,
And asked St. Peter to let them in.
Patrons were tall and dark and thin
And wore scraggly beardlets on their chin;
Carrier was solemn, seemed honest to the core
And showed signs of being pestered by a bore.
The choir in the distance the echoes woke
And Carrier kept still while Patrons spoke—“Ego thou, who guardest the Gate,” said three,
“We have come hither beseeching thee
To let us enter the heavenly land
And play our harps with the angel band.
“Of us, St. Peter, there is no doubt,
There’s nothing from heaven to bar us out.
We went to church about once a week
But to our boxes we would often sneak.
We’ve told our Carrier of the sinner’s day,
When he’d repent of his evil way;
We’ve told to Pastmaster and neighbors, all About his careless service and impudent gall.
We’ve shown him clearly what to do
If he’d enter with the chosen few;
He has cheated us as do other scamps,
We only trust him with licking stamps;
Each day he licked of stamps 200 or more,
While we kicked about faults till his belly got sore.
We know him, St. Peter, and know him well,
To escape from us he would go to hell;
We swear to his dishonesty and other tommyrot
And can not vouch whether he’ll pass or not.
If we are not asking too much of you
We beg you to let him also through.
We need him here as we did before,
To take up pennies and lick stamps galore.
But say, St. Peter, it does not seem quite right
That this gate is not kept shut rigid and tight.
Carriers seeing it thus wide ajar
Went undertake to enter with a car.”
St. Peter sat quiet in his usual way,
Murmured, “Hm, these Patrons can not stay.”
Then he arose in his stature tall
And pressed a button upon the wall,
And said to the Imp that answered the bell, “Escort these Patrons around to Hell.”
The Carrier cranked up and started on this way,
Bound to serve those Patrons or get no pay.
St. Peter saw as the Carrier went out
That he as well as the car was worn out;
Gave command to destroy his car of tin,
Replaced it with a harp and passed him in.
St. Peter saw clearly as many others do Carriers shouldn’t have hell on earth and in future, too.
When the poor fellow looked down from his high level,
He thought of his Patrons and was sorry for the devil.

HONDO’S REST ROOM FORMALLY OPENED.

Hondo’s Rest Room and Chamber of Commerce Club Hall was formally opened to the public Saturday afternoon with appropriate exercises. For several months now, County Agent C. M. Merritt has worked indefatigably to this end. By co-ordinating the Chamber of Commerce, the American Legion Post, the County Farm Bureau and the Hondo Parent-Teacher Association in one co-operative undertaking, the Frerichs Building, next to the First National Bank, has been leased. The American Legion has charge of the second story and the opening Saturday had to do only with the ground floor. This floor has been equipped for an office and a farm products exhibit at the front. Here, as you enter from the street, you find to the right the office of Mr. Merritt, the County Agent and Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. On the left is an attractive display of Medina county farm products. This display will be a permanent feature and will be kept up-to-date by seasonal additions to it. The center of the building is comfortably seated for an assembly room. Here the Chamber of Commerce will hold its public meetings, and the room will be open at all times to the use of the public for gatherings of whatever nature. The rear of the building is equipped for a ladies’ rest room, with a lavatory and running water. The rest room will be open every day to ladies and children visiting the town and desiring a place of seclusion and quiet for rest from the fatigues of travel or shopping. The rest room is beautifully furnished with a handsome mahogany table and twenty-four chairs to match. This furniture is the gift of the Household Furniture Store of San Antonio to the ladies of Medina county. And in order to leave nothing undone, the back yard of the building, together with the yards of the First National Bank and Hutzler’s Confectionery, has been converted into an up-to-date play ground for the kiddies.

With this co-operative enterprise thus consummated, it was with no small degree of pleasure and satisfaction that several hundred people, some coming from remote parts of the county, assembled to participate in its formal opening to the public’s use and benefit.

The program opened with a beautiful piano duet by Misses Gertrude and Annie Reilly. Mrs. J. R. Chancey, in happily chosen words, “Welcomed” the audience to the happy event and the public to the use of the rest room. Prof. W. N. Saathoff told how, through the co-operation of the various agencies and the tireless labors of Mr. Merritt, a “Rest Room Was Made Possible.”

Dr. W. H. Smith gave some timely advice and suggestions as “Health Helps,” and following a beautiful solo by Miss Corinne Ney, also sang a solo. Miss Willie Fly told what the teachers would do by way of contribution to the “Story Hour for Children.” Miss Octavia Davis thought the “Playground for Children,” if properly supervised and the right direction given to the children’s play, would develop them into good

LIME HUNGER IN COWS.

Cows are continually chewing bones at this time of the year,” writes a West Texas correspondent, “and if they cannot find bones, they will take tin cans or anything that comes handy.” He wants to know what will satisfy them.

Dr. G. S. Fraps, State Chemist and Chemist to the Texas Experiment Station, answers that this indicates that animals are not receiving what they ought to receive in their food, and the deficient substance is probably lime, although it may be lime and phosphoric acid.

It would be well to make up a mixture of equal parts bone meal and salt, and allow the animals to have free access to it whenever they desire. If the animals have not been getting any salt, before feeding this mixture they should receive salt at the rate of one ounce each day, as they may consume large quantities at first if they have not been getting it. That is to say, for fifteen cows one pound of salt should be put out daily, for about a week. After that put out a box with the mixture of bone meal and salt and allow them to have all that they want of it. The salt is not especially harmful, even if they do get a quantity of it.

would be well to see that the salt is of good quality.

It is possible that a mixture of slack lime and salt would be equally as good as bone meal and certain may be prepared by exposing slack lime to the air until it falls to powder or by spreading out a thin layer of hydrated lime, not over one-half inch, for four or five days. A mixture of wood ashes and salt could better.
